

The sum of four times a number and three times another number is twenty three, while the difference between the numbers is four.

What are the two numbers?